

TSANZ

The Transplantation Society of Australia and New Zealand

The Lafferty Distinguished Service Award

The inaugural TSANZ/Lafferty Award was presented at the TSANZ Annual Scientific Meeting (ASM) in 2016 and is named in memory of Kevin Lafferty, an Australian pioneer in transplantation biology who discovered that co-stimulation was required for T cell activation and graft rejection. The award is presented every 2 years to recognise a member of the society who has made significant and outstanding contributions to the advancement of transplantation in Australia and New Zealand and to the TSANZ.

Lafferty's strategic vision aligned with those of TSANZ, namely to:

- Encourage the development of young investigators as independent scientists
- Strengthen existing research activities and introduce new research activities that will maintain the society's leadership in transplantation
- Enhance student teaching and training
- Develop links between basic science and clinical studies
